Fund highlights

The Fund is an open ended mutual fund that invests in a diversified portfolio of high quality Nigerian companies that are domiciled in, or carry out part of their economic activity in Nigeria. In order to manage liquidity, the Fund may invest in short term money market instruments and deposits with credit institutions which may be held from time to time.

Fund strategy

The Fund uses a simple systematic rules-based investment strategy that is designed to capitalize on equity market inefficiencies specific to the Nigerian equity market, as established by extensive in-house quantitative research. The strategy is commonly known as smart beta investing.

The Portfolio Managers draw constituents from the largest 40 stocks (by market capitalization) and screen these stocks based on the following anomalies: value, momentum, profitability and dividend yield. Weights assigned to stocks are screen-rank-driven.

Monthly Comments

Fund and market review

The Fund returned -4.3% during the month, outperforming its benchmark, the NSE 30 and the NSE All Share index which dropped by -5.8% and -6.1% respectively. The Fund however, has returned -4.2% year to date compared to the NSE 30 and NSE ASI which declined by -4.8% and -5.0% (total returns) respectively.

The equity market was driven mainly by investors' reaction to financial results released during the month. In the banking sector, performance was mixed across board as banks continued to seek alternative sources of revenue in a relatively low interest rate environment. Results in the Consumer Goods sector were lacklustre as companies still grapple with rising costs and stiff competition. Worthy of mention are the re-emergence of a brewing company, Golden Guinea Breweries and the proposed full acquisition of Dangote Flour Mills by Olam Industries worth ₦130bn (subject to necessary approvals) which might further stiffen competition in the sector. In the Industrial Goods sector, Dangote Cement’s performance was also broadly impacted by a price reduction by competitors leading to a reduction in its market share. Sentiments towards equities were generally bearish and told negatively on the performance of the Fund.

Headline inflation printed at 11.25% year-on-year for the month (a 0.06 points reduction from 11.31 in February) while oil price continued its upward trend, closing at USD74pb as OPEC+ curbed production. The price gain was further aided by political tensions in both Libya and Venezuela. The rise in oil prices is positive for Nigeria’s macro performance.

Fund and market outlook

Barring any significant changes in the macro-economic environment, we expect the equities market to continue its sideways performance. Following the recent passing of the ₦8.9trn 2019 budget, we expect policy implementation to drive performance of the market and by extension, the Fund.
